HOW TO USE YOUR SPLIT THE BILL TOKENS

1 Patrons must take five (5) Split the Bill tokens per person to the participating restaurant. Patrons may not receive their discount if the tokens are forgotten, misplaced or they don't have enough tokens to cover all the meals.

2 When making bookings, and again before ordering meals, patrons must inform the restaurant they are dining with Split the Bill. Maximum of 10 people per booking.

3 Restaurants have the right to refuse Split the Bill patrons who have not booked ahead. Most restaurants encounter a surge in business during Split the Bill. All bookings must be made in advance.

4 Restaurants are required to offer Split the Bill for dinner from Sunday through to Thursday. For Friday and Saturday (and for lunch) it will be at the restaurant's discretion whether they offer Split the Bill. Patrons must check with their favourite restaurant at time of booking.

5 Split the Bill only covers the food bill. It does not include drinks. Extras such as corkage and tips are not covered by Split the Bill. Check with the restaurant when ordering drinks whether corkage applies and at what rate.

6 Split the Bill applies to all menus with the exception of shellfish and seafood. Some restaurants may include seafood, so patrons must check with their restaurant when ordering.

7 Split the Bill can only be used when two or more courses are ordered per person (including a main meal with either an entree or dessert).

8 The prices shown below in the restaurant listings are based upon the average price per two-course meal per head. Offer valid Sunday to Thursday until October 3, 2010 (unless otherwise stated). Split The Bill tokens are not valid Sunday September 5, 2010 (Father's Day)

9 Split the Bill only applicable to dining component of restaurant.

10 Not to be used in conjunction with any other offer restaurant may be running.
